

GREAT TONNAGE BEING HOISTED WEST END MINE

Usual Progress Is Reported in Development, With Mining Operations Satisfactory

More than 300 tons of ore are being produced from the West End mine every day in the week, according to the official report, which shows that for the seven-day period ending Aug. 19 a total of 2200 tons of ore were produced. During the same period the footage driven totaled 122 feet. The official report of activities at this mine follows:

"In the West End shaft workings west drift 401 has been suspended. Crosscut 414A continued to advance in low-grade ore. Drift 407 has been enlarged to facilitate mining operations. Drift 691 made a small advance without change to report. "From the Ohio shaft workings, intermediate drift 510 made a small advance without change to report. Drift 521 continued in ore of fair grade. 1,100 552A made a connection with 559 slope on ore. Crosscut 614 made great progress without change to report. On the 800 level, crosscut 605 No. 3 made the usual headway without change. Raise 871 made the usual headway without change. Crosscut 874 continued to advance in West End rhyolite. "Regular work was performed in Tonopah 78" ground. "The footage for the week was 122 feet. "Tonnage for the week was 2200 tons."

PROGRAM AT DIVIDE SHOWS MUCH ACTIVITY

For Seven-Day Period Official Report Shows 179 Feet of Ground Broken

"Satisfactory progress is being made in the development work at the Tonopah Divide mine, and for the week ending Aug. 16 a total distance of 179 feet was driven. The largest advance was on the south crosscut on the 1000-foot level, which was advanced 28.8 feet. This crosscut now is out 406.8 feet, and is being driven to cut the vein showing on the 1000-foot level. Owing to the dip of the vein as judged from the upper levels, it may yet be necessary to drive a considerable distance before the objective is obtained, and yet, according to unofficial information, it may be encountered within the next few feet. "Intermediate north crosscut 527A was advanced 28.5 feet, with satisfactory results. The official report of development work for the week and where the work was performed follows:

"West drift 206, advanced 11.7 feet; west drift 207A, 12 feet; south crosscut 240, 21 feet; south crosscut 304, 8 feet. Intermediate north crosscut 527A, 28.5 feet; south crosscut 809, 21.5 feet; south crosscut 813, 5 feet; north crosscut 1300, 18.5 feet; south crosscut 1400, 28.8 feet; raise 205, 16 feet; raise 207A, 4 feet; raise 415, 15 feet, for a total distance of 179 feet."

The continued and consistent development of the Tonopah Divide is sure to bring the property into prominence, in the belief of well informed mining men, who are convinced that this property soon will be ranked with the other big mines of Tonopah and southern Nevada.

While no official report was made on ore shipments, it is reported that the average of 50 tons per day is being maintained and values are $20 per ton or better.
